

Broken Harp Tasty-Brew at Mellon Wars III

Our Tasty Brew competition at Mellon Wars will look for the best tasting and not necessarily period homebrewed beverage. The entrants will fill out an entry form telling us about their entry, and will bring their entry to the Broken Harp anytime between Friday afternoon and the contest time. The panel of judges, as chosen by the Broken Harp, will taste the beverages, make comments about the entries and rank them.

After judging we would like the contestants to share their recipes and knowledge of brewing as well as allowing others to try their creations and get feed back.

Contest guidelines:

- Beverages do not have to be period to win
- Beverages must be home-brewed or otherwise home made. For example you can't enter a bottle of Southern Comfort.
- Entries must be delivered to the Broken Harp before the start of the competition
- All entries must list their ingredients. Some people have very serious allergies and we must know what is in an entry before judging. All decisions of the judges will be final and the judging criteria will be "best tasting." Yes, it is subjective. We know that. And yes, different people like different things. We know that too.

We would greatly appreciate it if entrants would fill out our entry form in advance so that we can more clearly keep track of the entries. The forms can be obtained at the Broken Harp or in advance, in an electronic format, by e-mailing me at vincent\_devere@yahoo.com.
